STATEMENT
re: Strike by the Students of Ayurvedic College, Hyderabad

*The Minister for Health and Medical (Sri P.V.G. Raju): Mr. Speaker Sir, the other day I had read out a statement in the House regarding the situation that has arisen out of the strike of the Ayurveda College students in the city. Since then, Sir, the situation has, if at all, become more difficult because of the fact that the students have not been able to appreciate the spirit with which I have been trying to deal with the problem. Just this morning, it has been brought to my notice, that the bus in which Hon. Members were travelling to come to the Assembly was stopped and a few students lay down on the road and obstructed the bus....

Mr. Speaker: And also the Speaker's car. I am informing this so that you may take serious notice.

Sri P. V. G. Raju: All this Sir, is highly regrettable but I think in the spirit of good-will, it is necessary that a solution be found. I have said here on the floor of the House before, while dealing with other matters, that no student should be victimised for the mistakes or omissions or for any other reason, that has been brought about, by either, an official or by the grown up world i.e., all of us. I stick to that viewpoint. Students are the future of our country, they are our youth and it is their well-being that will ensure the well-being of our future. There, I have no doubt in my mind. At the same time, no Government can deny itself the responsibility of maintaining discipline, trying to teach our youth in the subjects they have to be taught. Therefore Sir, we have to be firm and yet gentle at the same time. The present situation is such, that the students desire a certain course of medicine to be taught. We have appointed an Expert Committee to go into the question. I have also assured the students in private and also on the floor of the House here that the implementation of the Expert Committee's recommendations would be automatically implemented as far as the Government is concerned. However, some doubt seems to have crept into the minds of the students that the Expert Committee may not agree with their demands. However at this point, I would like to point out that it is not our duty in the House or the duty of any hon. Member to try to impose on the Expert Committee. We can be sympathetic to the Students, but we also, have to honour the integrity of the Expert Committee that we have appointed, because even in advance if we deny the right of the Expert Committee to give Expert Opinion, then in future, Government will be bereft of expert opinion on all subjects and we would be expected to decide issues by ourselves. Therefore I do not think it is fair to say that the Expert Committee's opinion shall be dictated to by the Government. At the same time, there is a general sympathy for the good of the student community, the good of the medical profession and this particular system also viz., the integrated medicine. Integreated medicine course has been there for a large number of years, since 1923.
The Rajah of Panagal in the composite Madras State introduced this course, I think it was in 1923. Subsequent to that, even in Madras when the Hon. Rukmini Lakshmipati was the Health Minister there, a school of Indian Medicine was opened in Kilpauk as you know Sir. Even in the Hyderabad State, according to the report I read the other day, since 1951 we are having these courses. Both the Madras and erstwhile Andhra States have been doing this. Andhra Pradesh has been giving consideration to this course, Sir.

There is only one doubt in the minds of the students that I would like to dispel here. The senior students in the college have been expressing the view that if the courses are introduced, what guarantee is there that they would be allowed to study for these courses in the coming years. I have said that the Government has no objection to their sitting for the examination, if these courses are introduced. Furthermore, we have suggested that they take their final examination this year and they will be allowed to sit for this new course and in addition to the Visharada degree which they would be getting, the Government would allow for a new degree, what may be called a Diploma, to be added to this degree; if this course is introduced. They have further said that this is necessary because they desire to practice modern medicine and because of the introduction of the Drug Act etc., and that they would be limited in their efforts to practice. Regarding this plea I have only this to say. The practice of Unani, Homoeopathy and Ayurveda physicians is controlled by an Act passed by the Government in 1936 called the Ayurveda Homoeopathy Regulation Act, I think. I am not quite sure of the title of the act, and I am subject to correction. So this Act of 1936 is there and under this Act, Government has rule-making power to state who shall practice and who shall not practice under this Act and therefore there should be no difficulty for the students to practice under this Act. However, they are not entitled under this course to practice as Allopathic doctors and that must be understood because Allopathy is a complete course in itself. Standards have been set by the Indian Medical Council and therefore the students here can never practice as Allopathic practitioners but practising under the system to which they are entitled would be allowed an extension of the right to practice, after the advice of the Expert Committee has been received.

Therefore, I would request them from here from the floor of the Legislature—that there is nothing infrading in this matter, and there is nothing like prestige between myself and the youth of the country—to co-operate with the Government. Especially in the case of Science we must be fearless because the future of our country is dependent entirely upon science and the increased efficiency that will arise in the nation out of the propagation of modern science. Therefore, I would request them Sir, with your support, to withdraw their strike. The Hon. Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Sundarayya, the Chief Minister and myself met and discussed the various questions. We will further go into the questions. After all, this is a matter which is the joint interest of the House. This is a matter of training to our doctors and the future of our science. Therefore Sir, while expressing regret to the members of the House for the unfortunate way in which their bus has been stopped and the students have been behaving, I would request the students to withdraw the strike. There is no need or cause for fear on their part that their demands would be overlooked by either the Government or the Expert Committee or by the well-being citizens in our State.

Sri P. Sundarayya (Gannavaram): I also join with the Hon. Minister for Health. In view of the statement by the Minister that this Committee which they appointed will submit the report taking the strong desire of the students themselves that they should be taught some medicine whatever the later developments in the medicines might be, so that they may be better useful doctors in the service of the people and in view of the statement of the Health Minister that all these details will be gone into and the courses will be introduced from next July itself, I request that they should withdraw their agitation or hunger-strike, whatever it may be called, so that the Government might decide all these issues in a better atmosphere and come to correct conclusions in the interests of the students themselves.

Sri P. V. G. Raju: Sir, the introduction of the courses will depend on the recommendations of the Expert Committee. I think the Hon. Leader of the Opposition must appreciate that fact, because an Expert Committee has been appointed. However, all of us, the Expert Committee members and Government and everybody knows the situation in the State. Everybody is responsible for all these matters. Therefore, there may not be any doubt about it. After all, we have to accept the opinion of the Pandits in the Expert Committee. That is most important.

Mr. Speaker: You say it is a long-term question and not confined to the present students alone. This is a permanent question with regard to Ayurveda and Allopathy. We all hope that they will withdraw their strike and go on and wait for the results of the Expert Committee.

It concerns all future programmes and curricula also. It is not about a few students of today. Any how, I hope that the things will be all right.

Voting on Demands for Grants for further Expenditure in the Year 1959-60

Mr. Chellappa raised a Point of Order. He wanted to know the reason why the Committee did not provide any grant to the Co-operative Financial Corporation. He said that in the past the Committee had recommended grants for varied purposes. However, this year, the Committee seemed to have ignored the financial corporation. He wondered if the Committee had any particular reason for not granting funds to this institution.

Mr. Chellappa then referred to the Small Scale Industries. He expressed concern about the lack of support from the Committee in encouraging these industries. He believed that the Committee should provide a cooperative basis for organizing the Small Scale Industries. He mentioned that the Committee had recommended grants for various purposes, but not for the Small Scale Industries. He thought that the Committee should take a more proactive role in supporting these industries. He suggested that the Committee should consider organizing a Tiles Factory on a co-operative basis.

Mr. Chellappa concluded by stating that the Committee should provide grants to the Small Scale Industries and the Co-operative Financial Corporation, as well as support for organizing a Tiles Factory.

Voting on Demands for Grants for further Expenditure in the Year 1959-60

Government Press was established in 1959-60, and the press machinery required for print production was acquired in the same year. The press capacity has since been expanded. The press machinery is now capable of printing 100,000 copies per day. Additional Directors have been appointed to the Press Department to oversee the operations.

Press capacity has been increased to meet the growing demand for print production. Scrap iron is used to make new machinery. The capacity of the Government Press has been increased to 100,000 copies per day. Permanent staff has been recruited to meet the growing demand for print production. The Press has been transferred to a new location to accommodate the increased capacity.

Temporary staff has been recruited to meet the growing demand for print production. Cooperative Society has been established to provide permanent employment to staff. The cooperative society will be funded by the Government Press.

The Compensatory Allowance will not be admissible to the employees provided with free quarters. The Commissioners of the Municipal Corporations, the Secretaries of the Zilla Parishads, Executive Authorities of the Municipalities, the Presidents of the City and Town Municipalities and Executive Officers of the Panchayat and Block Development Officers in the Panchayat Samithies are expected to obtain in writing in the forms enclosed the option exercised by the employees under their administrative control before the end of 1960.”

“The Government consider that without adequate financial aid from the Government the local bodies... will not be in a position to implement the revised scales of pay. They have, therefore, decided to meet half the expenditure involved on the payment of salaries and allowances to the employees of Municipal Corporations, local bodies, including school teachers dealt with in Part I of the Report for a period of 5 years and so on."

"We understand that almost all over time employees of the local bodies are now in receipt of D. A. and House-rent allowance at the rates obtaining under the Government with slight variations in certain cases, for all whole time employees (excluding) work-charged establishments or those met from contingencies. It is not a Government Order. On this a G. O. has been issued".

Mr Speaker,

Sir, I would like to bring to the notice of the Government the wrong policies, rather, change in the policies which the Government have adopted with regard to land reduction, irrigation and other things. I have been feeling, Sir, that great injustice has been done. The main responsibility, I think, may not lie with the Government of Andhra Pradesh, but probably with the Government of India. That is with reference to the provision made in the Budget about the Tungabhadra High Level Channel. I am in a way thankful to the Government for having made a provision of little more than crore of rupees for the High Level Channel, but I may refer to the days when some of us in the composite Madras Assembly have been agitating for having this, the then probably great project of South India, the Tungabhadra Project. In fact, when we go back to the origin of how this Tungabhadra Project has arisen, one feels very greatly disappointed that nearly a century has taken place before anything could fructify in the shape of providing water for the parched area of Rayalseema. It was, Sir, after the great famine of 1875 when in Rayalseema alone it was said that five million people died that the Famine Committee recommended that the waters of Tungabhadra could be utilised for supplying the waters of Bellari District in those days. Subsequently, the other Famine Commissions took up this idea and latterly a small committee of three people recommended the taking up of Tungabhadra Project for providing water not only for the Bellari District but the then ceded Districts and Nellore. So far as Chittoor District is concerned, Sir, there is a Ceded District Committee Report which lays stress on the utilisation of the waters of this great river for the benefit of Ceded Districts. No doubt, a suggestion was made in that that Nellore District may be cut off... because waters of Krishna could be utilised for Nellore District. This is what has happened. Out of the 17 lakhs of acres that were originally provided for in the Tungabhadra Project, not even a lakh and half acres have been brought under cultivation. In 1924, the great project was sanctioned.

The projects were sanctioned in 1924 and I think the ceded districts are thankful to Sri Sonthi Rama-murti who was mainly responsible for getting this project sanctioned, though in a modified form. After all this, how can we be satisfied with this small provision of a crore and a half for this project? It is now known that something like 20 crores and odd have to be spent for getting this high-level canal and even this high-level canal does not supply water to the entire area which was the original idea. But however Sir, at any rate, a major portion of Anantapur and some portion of Cuddapah could be irrigated under that. I remember the day when I read a book on Irrigation in Spain. Spain received ordinarily 40 inches of rain. Even then in that great country they realised the need for irrigation and water. In our State most part of our area does not get even 20 inches of rain. The need for irrigation is absolutely necessary and it is recognised both by the local Government as well as by the Government of India. And when we are importing foodgrains to the extent of 100 crores per year, what else could be done except supplying water which is absolutely necessary for growing more food. So I beg this Government to do its utmost to see that the amount of money that would be absolutely necessary to complete at least for a portion of the Tungabhadra project High Level Canal might be spent. How can it be possible to raise loans? Ceded districts are subject to famine. Not a pie is available in the shape of loans for subscribing to the high level canal. So it is absolutely necessary to convince the Government of India for making better provisions for loans. I never thought that possibly taking up of the Nagarjunasagar project stood in the way of the High Level Canal. I believe Sir, that I was one of those who was very keen and anxious about the Nagarjunasagar Project. Every one of the projects whether big or small or medium are in great need to be taken up because I see absolutely no conflict between one or the other. One wrong policy in this connection that has been adopted by the previous Government as well as by the present Government would be that a comprehensive investigation of the sources of water has not been done so far. I do not know why it was not done. The previous Government which was more or less a capitalist Government thought that whichever project is more paying and whatever is more remunerative should be taken up first and for the sake of those projects, all small projects are given up or dropped. It is a very wrong notion of the Government. The standard or criterion that they had adopted to consider whether a particular project is remunerative or not is absolutely wrong. The only criterion to judge is remunerative is not the land revenue or the water-rate that the Governments gets as a result of the project but the amount or the wealth that has been added and the amount of produce that has been added to the country as a result of the irrigation project. If that criterion had been adopted by the Government, this project would have been completed long time back. The impression of the capitalist Government in those days was that Tungabhadra project is not remunerative. We are trying to help to a certain extent as a sort of protection to the Ceded Districts and so the other projects which are more remunerative must be speeded up before other projects are taken up. Already 40 crores have been spent. If some more amount is spent to complete the reservoir, we can have enough of water in the High Level Canal. The sluice is there. The trouble of sufficient food would be avoided. It must be remembered by the Government that the area which is intended to be irrigated under this High Level Canal is mostly gravely soil and a small portion is of black-cotton soil. Some portions are of red soil also. To-day that wrong impression that black-cotton soil alone is suitable for irrigation has to be given up in view of the experiments that have been made in Sirivelli taluk. If distributaries are completed, the whole land could be cultivated within the course of an year. I again plead with the Government to see that 20 crores which is necessary for completing the project may be provided. A major portion of it is probably provided in the next year and the whole project to be completed within a course of 2 or 3 years.
There is one thing which the Government have neglected so far. In Madras and probably in Madhya Pradesh steps are being taken in order to improve the capacity of tanks to remove the silt. In our State steps should be taken to see that the silt in these tanks should be removed. Most of the silt is washed down into the tank. The problem to-day is not only to remove the silt but to arrange to take back the silt to those gravely soils or red soils from where it has come. In western countries crores are spent. If we do not spend to-day probably future generations will suffer, because no plant can grow without silt and it is up to the Government to take steps to see that the silt is taken back to the fields from where it came. We will be increasing the capacity of tanks and also the other lands will be benefited.

The demands are also based on the recommendations of the High Court. The rates of compensation for various purposes have been increased to meet the current needs.

The demands for grants are as follows:

- Agriculture: Rs. 10,000
- Industry: Rs. 5,000
- Irrigation: Rs. 3,000
- Labour: Rs. 10,000
- High Court: Rs. 2,000

The demands for grants are subject to the approval of the Ministry of Finance.
Coffee plantations are an integral part of the economy of India. The scheme was introduced in 1959-60 by the Government of India. The scheme aims to engage workers for wages, which are directly related to their productivity. The scheme covers family members, and 12 forced labourers divide the wages. However, the scheme has faced serious problems, and complaints have been filed. Forced labour has been found to be illegal, and as a result, the scheme is being reformed. The Leader of the Opposition has expressed serious view on the issue and has called for the abolition of forced labour.
It is not correct to say that the Corporation keeps on changing from one manufacturer to the other. The fleet of Corporation largely consists of Leyland buses; their performance has always been found to be satisfactory. Next to Leylands, the Corporation purchased Mercedes Benz.
In 1959-60, the bulk of orders for buses were distributed between the above two companies. Since however, the number of buses for which orders have been placed is large, the Corporation decided to try a few Bedfords, also which are considered to be the next best.

An aspect to consider is that in 1959-60, the bulk of orders were between the above two companies. Since the number of buses for which orders have been placed is large, the Corporation decided to try a few Bedfords, also which are considered to be the next best.

Supply makes it easier to dictate. Spare parts also make it easier to consider. In R.T.C., the Tyre Factory makes it easier. High Level Canal and Thunga-bhadra High Level Canal are important. Shop assistants also make it easier. Administration makes it easier.
I do not think I can add anything useful.

The passing of the 7th and 8th budgets, which are based on the assumption of increased agricultural income, is a matter of concern. It is clear that the Agricultural Income Tax ceiling is insufficient. Officers have requested that the ceiling be increased, but it is not clear how this can be achieved. Elected officials have expressed their concern, but there is no clear plan for increasing the ceiling.

The introduction of an Agricultural Income Tax limit has been proposed, with preference given to elected officials. There is a strong feeling that the limit should be increased, and this has been reflected in representations made on the subject.
